April Programs

Stories from a 21st Century Indian: Louis V. Clark III

Friday, April 5 @ 5:00 PM

Born and raised on the Oneida Reservation in northeastern Wisconsin, Louis V. Clark III (Two Shoes), author of How to Be an Indian in the 21st Century and Rebel Poet: More Stories from a 21st Century Indian, turned to poetry to continue the oral tradition of his people, the People of the Standing Stone. His first chapbook, "Two Shoes," was published in 2011. A member of the Iroquois Confederacy, his family is of the Bear clan. Louis will be here live to discuss his books and answer questions from the audience.

An Evening with Medium Diane Doyle

Tuesday, April 23 @ 5:00 PM

Diane Doyle is a believer. She believes that the gift she was born with is one to be shared. Her talent as a medium allows her to give the gift of healing to the many she comes in contact with who are searching for answers or closure... Diane is able to provide messages from beyond the physical world.

Yoga Nidra with Kerry Pasewald

Thursday, April 11 @ 5:30 PM

Local therapist Kerry Pasewald will present a yoga nidra (also referred to as yogic sleep), a state of consciousness between waking and sleeping, typically induced by a guided meditation. Yoga nidra is a systematic method of inducing complete physical, mental and emotional relaxation. Bring blankets, a pillow to rest your head, eye covering if desired and a small pillow or towel/blanket to place under knees. The program will take place in person at the library and online via Zoom.

Tween Creative Writing Workshop

Thursdays, April 4, 11, 18 & 25 @ 3:30 PM

At the Library Annex (251 W James St.)

The Columbus Public Library invites young writers (grades 4-8) to a four-part Tween Creative Writing Workshop. The workshop will be guided by award-winning local author and writing educator Valerie Biel. This free workshop is a great opportunity for young writers to hone their skills and receive inspiration, encouragement, and feedback from both their peers and a published author. Please register on the library's website.
